Tenure-track assistant / Associate professor positions

The Instituto de Matemáticas at the Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México (UNAM) seeks candidates for full-time tenure-track assistant / associate professor positions, starting immediately.

UNAM is the leading university of Mexico, and among the strongest research Math institutions in Latin America. The institute has more than 70 full time researchers covering many areas of Mathematics. Its main site is located in the campus of UNAM in Mexico City but also has sites in the cities of Cuernavaca, Oaxaca and Querétaro. More information about the Institute and the university can be found at www.matem.unam.mx.

Qualifications include two years of postdoctoral experience (or equivalent experience), effective communication skills, commitment to teaching excellence, and an active research program in Mathematics. Candidates in all areas of pure and applied mathematics are welcome to apply.

Responsibilities include, maintaining a strong research program, teaching one course per semester at the undergraduate or graduate level in a topic of interest to the candidate, and advising students.

Applications must include a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, including a list of publications and a research plan. Evidence of teaching interest and abilities may also be included (teaching is in Spanish at UNAM). Additionally two letters of recommendation must be send separately.

Applicants are encouraged to use the service provided by AMS at www.mathjobs.org to submit an application. Alternatively, application materials may be sent to the adress below.

Letters of recommendation should be uploaded to MathJobs by the recommender, or sent directly to the adress below.

Review of applications will begin on February 15, 2013, and will continue until the positions are filled.
